

CLIENT MEMBERSHIP 2018

In order to better engage with the wider Geotechnical Industry and promote the ethos and standards that the BDA is trying to bring to the Drilling Industry we are now offering category of membership for Clients

(Client definition = Engaged in procuring or specifying ground drilling services (or equipment) but not contracting to supply such services or directly employing sub-contracted drillers)

Client Members are allowed one registered member and receive all corporate company membership benefits (except voting rights), such as:

-) Full, searchable company listing/advert on BDA website
-) Use of BDA logo for promotion and letterhead
-) Discounted fees for BDA events
-) Free copy of BDA Health and Safety Manual and other BDA publications
-) Vicarious membership of Build UK. All BDA members have access to the benefits of the Build UK
-) Receive Geodrilling International magazine / BDA newsletters
-) Safety Alerts etc.

Client members do have voting rights and cannot be elected to the Management Committee, but they can however, upon request, sit on one of our sub-committees as a co-opted member.

Consultant membership is by invitation only and requires approval by the BDA Management Committee. Membership is free until 2019 and then £450.00 thereafter (reduced to £300.00 for AGS members).

If your company is interested in becoming a “BDA CLIENT MEMBER” please contact one of our Management Committee Members for an introduction – present committee members can be found on following link <http://www.britishdrillingassociation.co.uk/Committees> or contact BDA Secretariat for details (see below).

BDA is a not for profit organisation, committed to improving standards in health & safety, quality of workmanship and technical standards for the benefit of the Drilling Industry and Clients
