

CONSULTANT MEMBERSHIP 2018

In order to better engage with the wider Geotechnical Industry and promote the ethos and standards that the BDA is trying to bring to the Drilling Industry we are now offering category of membership for Consultants

(Consultant definition = Engaged in giving professional / expert advice but not contracting to supply ground drilling services (or equipment) or directly employing sub-contracted drillers)

Consultant Members are allowed one registered member and receive all corporate company membership benefits (except voting rights), such as:

-) Full, searchable company listing/advert on BDA website
-) Use of BDA logo for promotion and letterhead
-) Discounted fees for BDA events
-) Free copy of BDA Health and Safety Manual and other BDA publications
-) Vicarious membership of Build UK. All BDA members have access to the benefits of the Build UK
-) Receive Geodrilling International magazine / BDA newsletters
-) Safety Alerts etc.

Consultant members do have voting rights and cannot be elected to the Management Committee, but they can however, upon request, sit on one of our sub-committees as a co-opted member.

Consultant membership is by invitation only and requires approval by the BDA Management Committee. Membership is only £450.00 (reduced to £300.00 for AGS members).

If your company is interested in becoming a “BDA CONSULTANT MEMBER” please contact one of our Management Committee Members for an introduction – present committee members can be found on following link

<http://www.britishdrillingassociation.co.uk/Committees> or contact BDA Secretariat for details (see below).