The British Drilling Association (BDA) is always looking to better engage with the wider Geotechnical Industry and promote its ethos and standards, through its third-party accredited BDA Audit, and has therefore established a unique 'Client' membership category.

Client Definition:

Engaged in procuring or specifying ground drilling services (or equipment) but not contracting to supply such services or directly employing sub-contracted drillers

Y

Benefits of BDA Membership:

- Full, searchable company listing on BDA website
- Access to BDA safety manuals and guidance documents
- Access to BDA safety alerts and learning bulletins
- Use of BDA logo for promotional purposes
- Discounted fees for BDA events
- Discounted fees for BDA supported events (Emap, etc)
- Free copy of BDA Health & Safety Manual and other BDA publications
- Vicarious membership of Build UK. All BDA members have access to the benefits of Build UK
- Free copy of GeoDrilling International magazine
- Free monthly e-Newsletter with industry news, health, safety and audit updates and standards press releases

Client members do not have voting rights and cannot be elected to the BDA Management Committee but can still request to sit on a sub-committee as a co-opted member.

Join the BDA?

Client membership is by invitation only and requires approval by the BDA Management Committee and carries an annual fee of £450.00 (reduced to £310.00 for AGS members).

However, for a limited period only client organisations can register for FREE! If your company is interested in becoming a 'BDA CLIENT MEMBER' please contact:
